PUSS IN BOOTS

An old father lived with his three sons. When the father died, he left each son a special gift. He left his farm to the eldest son, the donkey to the middle son and his cat to the youngest son. The youngest son was sad but he soon learns that he got the best gift from his father. The cat promised to make him rich. The cat asks for a pair of boots and a bag from his master. Now the Puss in Boots went off and hunted for rabbits. It caught a rabbit and took it to the king telling him it was a gift from his master. This was the first step in making his master rich.
